

CREDIT CARD AUTHORIZATION

In order to make keeping current on payments easier and efficient JM Counseling will keep a credit card on file. The card you designate will be charged the day of your appointment for the full amount due. This procedure will enable you to save time during the therapy session and focus on what you are working on in therapy. Please note that it is a requirement to have a credit card on file in order to participate in teletherapy.

If you have chosen to pay for multiple sessions in advance, your card can be charged, with your written approval, once the prepaid sessions have run out. You will be notified prior to the last prepaid session and asked to re-sign indicating your choice of payment for continued therapy.

Patients are personally responsible for payment. Any balance not paid by the end of the week will be automatically charged to your designated card.

I agree to the above terms and authorize you to charge any payment not paid by the end of each week to the credit card assigned.
